Dear Heidelberger,

I was very glad to get your letter and to hear that you had a satisfactory summer. - Glad that you decided to publish summaries of your work both in the Chemical and Physiological Reviews. While in France I met Professor Besredka and he spoke in the highest terms of your work, so you see it has great recognition not only in this country but also abroad.

We too had a very satisfactory summer. Crossing to France was quite satisfactory even though the food on the Royal Mail Line, as usual, was nothing to rave about. On the other hand, on the return trip, the food was excellent but the sea did not behave quite so well. So the average was good. Personally, I have rested and gained weight on the return trip more than I have ever done in any eight days.

Evian is one of the nicest places we have ever visited and we can recommend it highly to anybody who wants a peaceful time and most interesting and picturesque surroundings.

I wish to congratulate you on your tenth anniversary. I wish I had known about it before so that our greetings might have been more timely.

Please convey our warmest greetings to Nina.

Yours as ever,

P. A. Levene
